New Beginning

Time quickly passes us by while we reminisce about the past.
Every memory makes an impact on the rest of our lives.
We begin to notice the deeper meanings behind our purpose.
Trying to cherish the past experiences and comparing them to our present.
Even though changes occur, memories remain in our hearts.
Every day is a new challenge to overcome on our path.
Remembering the past but not being able to go back.
Waiting for new memories to begin.

The Class of 2000 has taken their last finals, and they are celebrating at a summer bash at senior Kelly O'Reilly's house.

Students anxiously anticipate it. Some go on exotic vacations to warm, sunny destinations. Others stay in the area and earn some money, while some continue going to school. After the last finals have been taken, it starts. What is it? Well, it's the summer, of course, the only time of year students can do whatever they wish.

Each person spends his or her summer in a different way. Freshman Kejal Patel took advantage of an exciting opportunity two years ago. "I went to France, Spain, Switzerland, and Germany on a student ambassador program. The best part about it was we went to the Eiffel Tower and stayed with a French family for a few days."

Junior Divyesh Patel chose to spend his summer in another way. "This summer I went to Nassau/Paradise Islands and stayed at the Atlantis Resort. The funniest thing was when I went parasailing in the Atlantic Ocean."

Others choose to work during the summer to earn some extra bucks. Freshman Carrie Zich baby-sat everyday from 7:30 a.m to 5:30 p.m., even on the weekends. Seniors Huma Farook, Caroline Zaia, Tania Villamil, Nineveh Gorgis worked at TTC Profits By Phone as telemarketers.

However students choose to spend their summers, it is the only time of the year when students do not have to go to school and are free to do anything. As the title of that old song says, "There ain't no cure for the summertime blues." -Alissa Catiis

HANGIN' AROUND

It's Friday. The mod 29 bell just rang. You survived that dreadful math test. The only thing on your mind is the weekend that is about to begin. While the splash waters of Gilson Beach await you, you wonder whether to grab a bite to eat at Buffalo Joe's or hit the dance floor at Club X.

As weird as it may sound, most students, freshmen through seniors, basically have the same weekend plans. The most common response can be summed up by freshman Aron Sullivan. "I like to go out with my friends and have a good time." Senior Oli Santos and sophomore Matt Margolis both agree that when the weekend comes around, they are ready to party. Then there is always the typical night: "We usually end up sitting at Mike Brown's house," says senior Chris Perea.

No matter what goes on during the weekends, whether it be going downtown, or just sitting around at someone's house, students at West are bound to have a good time.

FASHION IN STYLE

Left to right: Bond, James Bond; actually, this preppy disco getup was a well-liked outfit for the students of Niles West. Short skirts with plaid designs were popular clothing items for girls during the 70's era. Bell bottom pants were not only for the girls in the 70's. "The tighter the better" was a fashion trend for a lot of girls back then.

What's in style now? Have you ever wondered if styles from the past years are coming back again? Well they are. Clothes like bell bottom pants and these vests are what everyone is wearing lately and are all styles from the seventies. Just think back to a couple of years ago and what everyone around you was wearing. Many were wearing baggy pants, jerseys and t-shirts. Lately, more people are wearing more sophisticated clothes. The guys are wearing khaki pants with nice clean cut shirts, and the girls are wearing boot cut pants, bell bottom pants, and basically more fitted jeans with fitted shirts. We cannot forget all the name brands students are wearing, like Tommy Hilfiger, Ralph Lauren, Polo, Nautica, Fubu, Guess, DKNY, Abercrombie and Fitch, Mudd jeans, and Express jeans.

Showing off his Hawaiian shirt, sophmore Robert Noonan models for the fans. Although Tech Vests seem to be the new fad, they actually came out back in the 70's. The style for girls in the seventies were short dresses that were very popular. Levi jeans were the hip thing to wear in the 70's.

TATTOOS/PIERCINGS

Whoa! Times have changed, haven't they? It used to be rebellious to simply get your ears pierced, or more recently, getting your cartilage pierced. Well, if you go to Niles West, you know you're not on the edge unless you do something drastic. Navel, tongue, and eyebrow piercings are popular. Others range from lip, chin, and bridge piercings. There are even more extreme ones that I won't mention, but tattoos and piercings have become an everyday fashion statement at our school. Cool places to get a tattoo or piercing are "Tattoo Factory," "Painless Piercings," and "Jade Dragons." When I asked, "Why did you get a tattoo or piercing?" senior Kristine Jackson, who has the Playboy Bunny scrawled on her derriere, said "I got my tattoo because I thought it was cute and sexy." Mike Pawlik, also a senior, wouldn't show us his piercing. "I'd show you my piercing," he said, "but it's in an inappropriate place. Sorry." On the opposite end, senior Annaliza Floresca, who has no piercings or tattoos, says "I cry at the sight of needles!" Body art has definitely come a long way. Some of us are old fashioned, and some of are saving up for the next innovative trend. -Michelle Stimac

PERSONAL SPACE

Huma Farook and Alissa Catiis

Senior Daniel Vondran poses in front of one of the walls in his bedroom. From all the posters and signs, it looks like he is a really big heavy metal fan.

Whether it's the most organized and color coded place in the world, or it looks more like a Chicago trash dump, one's bedroom is his or her personal space. Some are blessed with the master bedroom, while others are stuck in the room that was supposed to be a small storage area. Some have more technologically advanced rooms, equipped with a television, VCR, computer, and a telephone, while others have just a few simple items. Some seem to hibernate in their bedrooms, while others just use them as places to sleep. Regardless of its size, technology, or usage, the ability to design and decorate a room to one's desires gives him or her an outlet for self-expression.

"I think bedroom decorating is a form of self-expression. It's like writing, or what you wear. It's just a physical way to express what you're really like," commented sophomore Lindsay Perlen.

If bedrooms reflect who people are, then some have pretty eclectic personalities. Freshman Steve Dogiakos commented, "I have my favorite stories/poems on my walls/ceiling." He also added that he has Poe stories, including The Raven, friends' signatures, his drawings, a lava lamp, a stop light, and warning lights.

While some students are lucky enough to have their own rooms, some, like sophomore Nadia Shamim, have to share. She shares a room with her older sister. Nadia states, "I think she [her sister] believes that she should have 'special privileges' because she's older than me. There are NO benefits to sharing a room."

Students' storage space at school, more commonly known as lockers, are their personal spaces at school. Strolling down the corridors of Niles West, there are lockers that are very organized and contain shelves that maximize the space. Some lockers appear to be more like closets, filled with sweatshirts, tank tops, and pants. Other lockers lack any order and have a lot of paper clutter filling up the space. Some students choose to decorate their lockers to make them more personal.

Regardless of the condition of your bedroom or your locker, it is your own personal space, so feel free to use it to your own desires.

Left: Sophomore Lindsay Perlen is lounging in her butterfly chair while taking a quick cat nap to relieve the stresses of daily life. "I like very random, odd things; my room is pretty eclectic." These lockers are just some of the many at West. Different photos in the lockers show how students have personalized their lockers.

Left: Senior Michael Pawlik shows us some skills with that big sword. He is a master of the martial arts considering he has his first degree black belt in tae kwon do, but do not underestimate him; he does have a soft side. Aww, just look at that cute teddy bear in the corner.

HOBBIES/COLLECTIONS

Kelly O'Reilly and Ron Ruanphae

There is a diverse array of people here at West, so naturally, their hobbies differ just as well. Whether it be flying through the air at exhilarating speeds, or scouring through every store to find that perfect addition to your collection, students find themselves in the midst of a whirlwind of hobbies. In fact, there is such a variety that it is hard not to find yourself involved in some way.

Why do we have such hobbies? There are numerous reasons for it. Sometimes it's just something to do. Freshman Beeta Azarnoosh likes her hobby because it keeps her busy. Other people have hobbies for their personal glory. "I work out so I can look good," says Sophomore Eric Aponte. Junior Jose Diaz collects baseball cards simply because he likes baseball. Then there are the people who do not really know why they do it at all. "I didn't even know that I had a collection. One day I just realized that I had a lot of college shirts," says senior Kevin Matten.

So when you feel like you have a lull in your life, you should start a new hobby or collection. It's guaranteed to add the extra spice in your life to make it a little more interesting.

The Welsh-Ryan Arena, located on the Northwestern University campus, was full of administrators, faculty, friends, fellow classmates, and parents on June 2, 1999, focusing on the 526 graduating seniors. Seated on the floor normally reserved for basketball, the graduating senior class blanketed the court in a sea of red and white tassels and robes .

For some students, graduation was an exciting time. When senior Nilam Soni was asked about her last week of school, she commented, " It was very carefree; my finals were almost over and I had already been accepted to Northeastern University."

The senior class may appear stoic, seated like statues in a row; however, a myriad of conflicting emotions run like an undercurrent through the arena:

- the feeling of waiting in line for that moment, grabbing the diploma, shaking hands with the administrators
- the feeling of accomplishment when hearing the speeches given to the graduating class
- thoughts and memories of friends, of good times, sad times, of days gone by and those yet to come.

Couples from the prom of 1975 share an intimate last dance with their dates as their high school career comes to a close.

On Friday May 14, 1999, many students filled the ballroom of the Knickerbocker Hotel in Chicago. As the Ralph Wilder Orchestra played on, students had a ball, dancing from 7:30 to midnight. Joe Ravenna and Maggie Graham were crowned king and queen. Other nominees included:

Andy Bautista Gennevieve Gouson
Eliot Costianis Randee Kagan
Michael Peronti Bella Seperghan
Erich Eierman Adrianne Schoen
Tom Vranas Frances Lim
Marina Shoffer Ciprian Cuc
John Toliopoulus Lori Sison
Mickey Arabelovic Shayna Harris

Although prom is a memorable experience, it is the evening's plans after prom that make it a memorable night. Many students attened the Niles West sponsored event, a two hour cruise aboard the Ugly Duck Cruises. Others continued to party at hotels downtown. Whatever they did, prom was truly a experience for all who attended. -Alex Harris

Just look at those cute ladybug slippers that Margaret Hellum is modeling on Pajama Day. Work the cafeteria floor, girl!

From September 20 to September 24, students participated in Spirit Week, the festivities that occurred prior to the Homecoming game and dance. Pajama Day kicked off the festivities, followed by Stars and Glitter Day, College Day, and concluded with our traditional Red and White Day and a pep rally.

At the assembly, students remembered fellow students Julio Adrian Aponte, Gianluca Manno, and Bianca Tarau. Student Senate presented a video, which sparked the humor of many; then the fall varsity sports were introduced. The cheerleaders and pommers performed the routines that they had been practicing for many hours.

Following the introduction of the sports teams, came the winners of the Homecoming court, as well as the nominees and winners of the senior court. Freshman court winners were Michelle Brodsky and Alejandro Antunez, sophomore court winners were Ji Hae Kim and Otis James, and the winners of the junior court were Nicole Marino and Thomas Rusak. Nominees of the senior court were Kelly O'Reilly and Lorin Drexler, Niki Dimoulis and George Younan, and Natasha Dragoi and Chris Uhle. Winners were Niki Dimoulis and George Younan.

Afterwards, students who were in clubs participated in the Homecoming parade. A contest was held and out of 19 floats, the top three were Filipino Club, Junior Cabinet and Latino Club. Candy was given out to the children who came to watch the parade.

This homecoming was truly a Moonlit Serenade. The night was beautiful with a temperature of 70 degrees and a blowing breeze. As couples walked towards the doors that would take them to the dance, they were escorted by a huge, yellow moon.

Inside, the mirage of colors lightened the dance floor. There were many different styles of dresses and suits. Every couple, every person was unique.

There was also a wide range of music this year, ranging from "Mambo No.5" to "Lady in Red." Another fun twist was senior John Borto DJ-ing for part of the dance.

Straw hats, flourescent glowsticks, and maracas were among the party favors handed out.

What were some of the best and worst memories of the 1999 Celestial Celebration?

Senior Anthony Rusnik: "The absolute worst part of Homecoming is getting the bill after dinner!"

As bad as those may seem, the good seemed to outweigh the bad.

Sophomore Pat Donoghue: "The best part of Homecoming night was what we did afterwards."

Junior Tony Thomas: "I liked slow dancing with my date.

Senior Stephanie Burak: "My favorite part was the company I was in."

Senior Ryan Rodriguez: "I liked how I could spend time with my loving woman."

As couples left, the moon was white and high in the sky. It was a perfect way to end a perfect beginning.

College Night

Above: Sometimes a school close to home is the best. Several students are just not ready to leave home and schools like OCC prepare them for the next level. Being a rather prominent school in the immediate vicinity of the students, it is a popular choice. To allow most visitors a comfortable investigation it was given a large booth.

September 14, 1999

Niles West's annual college fair was held on Wednesday, September 14, 1999. Over 250 colleges and universities visited the school. The fair lasted from 7:00 to 9:15 PM. During this time students and their parents were able to ask questions to particular colleges in regard to applications and other criteria needed for admission. Among the most popular colleges were DePaul University, the University of Chicago at Champaign-Urbana, and the University of Illinois at Chicago (kindly known as UIC). Niles West coordinated and arranged the fair with the help of many students. Peer Leaders and the National Honor Society were part of many other organizations that volunteered at the college fair. They started their volunteer work at 5:00 by greeting the college representatives and escorted them to the cafeteria to sign in. The National Honor Society helped the representatives sign in and showed them to their specific college locations. At 7:00 PM the doors were open and so began the college fair. Parents and guardians accompanied their children to the fair. Students not wishing to enroll directly into college visited with the United States Navy, the Army ROTC, and the United States Air Force Academy to inquire about enlisting and scholarship programs. Despite the fact that it only lasts one night, College Night has tremendous impact on the futures of many students.

One day you go to class, you sit down and are about to doze off when your teacher says, "Class we are going on a field trip." Still half asleep, you wonder if you are still dreaming, until your teacher comes to you and slaps her hand on your desk. "Yes" is the only thing that comes out of your mouth. As your teacher goes back to her lecture, you doze off to sleep, dreaming of your first field trip since the beginning of your high school career.

To some, field trips are a day out of classes, to some they are a new learning experience, and to others a day to discover new things about their peers. For a student who has never gone on a field trip in high school, it is a victory. Field Trips are a day of the three F's, freedom, food, and fun. Since field trips last a whole school day, students usually have lunch at a restaurant. Freedom is savored and life just begins to look great again.

WHAT IS THE MOST EMBARRASSING THING THAT HAS HAPPENED TO YOU?

*My freshman year, I wasn't paying attention to where I was walking, and I walked straight into a post in the hallway. -Cathy Chutipulsalkul

*I fell down the stairs, and everyone was laughing at me.-Juliana Batanko

* After I got surgery on my mouth, my cheeks were huge and puffed. Everyone in school, including people I didn't know, kept coming up to me and asking me what happened. -Javier Argos

*After swim practice, my friend pulled down my pants in front of the whole track team-and I didn't have anything on underneath. -Dana Lucas

*When I was a freshman, one of my senior friends slammed the Hall of Honor door against me, and I went flying back. -Jennie Shimanski

WHAT ADVICE WOULD YOU GIVE TO UNDERCLASSMEN?

*Don't bend over backward for this. Take the stuff as it comes. These really are the best times of your life. -Jim Stoneberg
*Enjoy it. Enjoy it all. -JoLynn Buc
*Get lots of sleep. -Isaac Kagan
*Never listen to anyone but yourself, because if you don't, then you'll have more regrets. -Geraldine Tzanetatos
*Take first semester serious, and slack off second semester like a blind man with a jigsaw puzzle. -Paul Karagiannis
*Graduate early. -Diana Maric
*Have fun, and enjoy it. It goes by too fast. -Billy Govis

WHAT IS YOUR MOST MEMORABLE MOMENT AT WEST?

*Wearing my plastic police duty badge, and hearing a freshman confess to me everything that he's done wrong. -Nenos Guiliana

*Turnabout, junior year. After the dance, and after the karaoke. Twenty-six special people will never forget that night. -Kim Stephans

*Going sledding multiple times my junior year at Mount Trashmore. I'll never forget that one bump on which three of us flew. -John Ray Asistores

*The three pictures of me (in a row) in the '97 yearbook. People kept coming up to me and telling me how much I look like my three brothers. -Francis Kambool

*Hitting two home runs over the scoreboard in one game. -Jason Krynski

*My freshman year, me and a few other friends would have these crazy fun sleepovers. We would dance around and eat frosting and do girly things. Unfortunately, we don't anymore, but those were some of the best times. -Sara Lichter

Throughout the many trials and tribulations of our time in high school we have made many acquaintances, many friends, and enemies. We've experienced love, hate, passion, lust, happiness, and pain. We have come together as a class. The class of the year 2000 is the last class of the millennium. For some of us, this is only the beginning, and for others it is an end. We don't know what the future holds for us, but one thing is for certain, the four years we spent together were some of the best four years of our lives. These are the times that we will always remember. We can't look back anymore, we must look forward and embrace whatever it is that comes to us in the future. Class of 2000, GOOD LUCK, and always remember to follow your hearts. Oh, and don't forget to wear sunscreen.

Twin Bonanza...

Anna Slonim

You have entered the Twilight Zone. As the spiral continues its circular pattern, you question your sanity. You ask yourself if you're really seeing double or if it is a malfunction in the matrix-deja vu. It's no surprise- you're wandering the halls of West.

More alike than any other siblings-six juniors, three sets of twins. Their story continues as you get hypnotized by the black and white swirls of the Twilight Zone...

Double The Facts

*World's Tallest Living Male Twins–Michael and James Lanier, US, 7'6" each
*World's Tallest Living Female Twins–Heather and Heidi Burge, US, 6'5" each
*World's Shortest Living Male Twins–John and Greg Rice, US, 34" each
*World's Shortest Living Female Twins–Dorene Williams and Darlene McGregor, US, 4'1" each
*Greatest Height Difference Between Twins–Koehler Twins, US. Don Koehler and his fraternal sister were born in Denton, Montana. Koehler started an abnormal period of growth when he was 10 years old. He was 8'2" before dying (1981). His twin sister was 5'9"
*Longest Living Male Twins–Eli Shadrack and John Meshark Phipps. (Born Feb. 14, 1803 in Affington, Virginia, US) Eli lived to be 108 years
*Longest Living Female Twins–Kin Narita and Gin Kanie. (Born Aug. 1, 1892 in Nagoya, Japan) Kin passed away at age 107 years

J and D Berkley, that's right, this double brother team is coming to a theater near you. Well, maybe that's pushing it, although Jon and David did comment on the life of the rich and famous. If only the two could climb the charts as quickly as The Backstreet Boys. Q: What qualifications do you have to be a teen idol? A: I have red hair and never wear deodorant.-Jon. I am dead sexy.-David. Sure the guys have a long way to climb, but they've got one thing going for them, their sense of humor.

...Twin Bonanza

Anna Slonim

The Trinhs are something else. Twin telepathy seems to be quite common in the news. Elizabeth shares a story on this particular subject. "I think [it was] when I was on a trip. Her [Shirley] and I were separated into different groups. She got sick and for some weird reason I just felt like going to the nurse." Coincidence or the secret of twin mind communication...you decide.

Sibling rivalry. Most of us have felt the tension and some of us have even acted on the impulse of clubbing the other with a pencil. However, when you're a twin, the tension is even worse, especially for the Kozlowskis. "He [Kyle] flushed my favorite necklace down the toilet. It was a heart locket that my mom gave me. He only did it because he got angry!" claims Kathie. Sure Kathie, we hear you.

As the theme song of the Twilight Zone continues, you realize it's almost at an end. The confusion has almost left you. You snap your head, right...left...no...No...NO! The truth remains. It's not in your mind. You are seeing double...it's not deja vu after all. You accept the facts, and start humming along to the remainder of the song.

In the dream I was playing the guitar while I was playing the drums. I get better by doing different things. By playing with the Niles West Jazz Band and taking private lessons I improve a great deal. I also improve my skill with by playing with my band THE BRANCHES, composed of Ryan Ullrich (guitar, vocals), Jonathan Reyes (bass), Mark Cunny (lead guitar), and me (drums)."

This comic is based on a true story. The names have been changed to protect the innocent. Our story begins as Marie, Beth, Cara, and Gina are waiting for their class to end...
Hey guys, what would you do if the substitute was an axe-murder? Personally, I would spit at him and blind him.
Well, I would hit him with my book bag.
I would attack him with my art pencils.
Beth, what would you do?
Hmmm...
I would probably do this...
hop
Haha Haha Haha Haha Haha Haha Haha
Oh, you were asking what I would do if an axe-murder attacked! Never-mind. I thought you were asking what I'd do if you spit at me!

Collage answer: If you guessed famous soap star actor, Jonathan Jackson, you are right. If you missed Johnathan, look again!

TGIF?
By: Maya Schenwar

Friday is the apparition of an iris
Opening its brilliant blue petals
As the world exhales
High on its fresh-cut aroma
Its stem is sturdy, its velvet bloom firm to the touch
Yet it slips through the fingers
Dissolves into the air that bore it
Leaving only a withered petal
Two days old

How many pennies have you had thrown at you during your time at Niles West?
*None, but someone threw a half-dollar at me and I picked it up!
Do you think that the world is going to end?
*Yes, that's why I'm going to wrap myself in tin foil on December 31.
-Nicholas Halkias

If you were president what would you do?
*Change the 'White House' to the 'brick house.'
Do you think that the world is going to end?
*No! That myth is bogus.
-Marat Fleytlikh

How many pennies have you had thrown at you during your time at Niles West?
*One, but it was Canadian.
Do you think that the world is going to end?
*Yes, so you better be wearing clean underwear.
-Eddie Aponte

What Decade Do You Belong In?

Jessica Kreusch and Anna Slonim

1) It's Friday night and you finally got a date with person of your dreams. What 'do' are you sporting?
   a) A conservative, shoulder-length bob, it's a classic.
   b) The long ironed style, or any other groovy do.
   c) A 'fro'-you need something that can survive a night at the disco.
   d) The bigger, the better, stack up on that hair spray.
   e) You like to be an original, so you dyed your hair multi colors.
2) It's 7:30 in the morning and you're speeding in your car to get to school. What tunes are on your radio?
   a) Buddy Holly-Rock 'n Roll is here to stay.
   b) Help!...you need the Beatles.
   c) Jackson 5 on the 8-tracks that you've installed, of course.
   d) A mixed cassette tape featuring Madonna, MC Hammer, and Vanilla Ice.
   e) The Backstreet Boys or any other burned CD of your favorite boy band.
3) You're at Blockbuster trying to find a video as a boredom buster. What catches your eye?
   a) Grease; poodle skirts and Rock 'n Roll-what more can you ask for?
   b) Yellow Submarine-another tribute to those talented Brits you love.
   c) You're going to 'stay alive' with John Travolta in Saturday Night Fever.
   d) Dirty Dancing-Patrick Swayze has always made you swoon.
   e) Admit it-you like cheap horror flicks. Scream would be perfect.

4) You and your buds are at the mall window-shopping. What outfit catches your eye?
   a) A poodle skirt or leather jacket; that reminds you that you can use a new pair of bobby socks.
   b) Bell bottoms and a fringe jacket; you wonder if they have a pair of Birkenstock sandals in your size.
   c) A vinyl disco shirt completed with platform shoes-perfect for a boogie night.
   d) Neon spandex or parachute pants, what ever you come across first.
   e) Jeans and a sweater-casual and comfortable for that every day look.

5) What TV family do you most wish you were a part of?
   a) The Cleavers from Leave It to Beaver. You've always thought you'd make a perfect middle child.
   b) You'd give anything to be a Brady...
   c) You've always wanted to perform and live on a bus, so you think the Partridge Family is for you.
   d) Full House-it's so full that you don't think the Tanners will mind having you around.
   e) What family? Everyone has a broken home...why not make your debut on a talk show?

6a) What kind of guy do you find the dreamiest?
   a) Slick hair, leather jacket...a motorcycle would be nice.
   b) An easy going guitar player that you can talk to about the 'issues.'
   c) Someone that can boogie down...all night long.
   d) A slanted hat wearing, boom box carrying, bad boy rapper wannabe.
   e) Tall, dark, and handsome-you know, the George Cloony type.

6b) What kind of girl makes your heart beat faster?
   a) Someone you can take out for a burger and fries at a drive thru and doesn't mind letting you pay.
   b) Marsha Brady; you won't settle for anything less.
   c) A pretty girl who's all about good times.
   d) A mall rat donning a mini skirt, bangle bracelets, and a side ponytail.
   e) Someone who's not afraid to go 'dutch' and speak her own mind.

From top: What decade do you belong in? Juniors Debroah Sola and Maya Ashwal seem quite content in the 90's. Juniors Jason Grover, George Kondiles Ryan Kinslow, and Joe Dimaria pile up on Mike Bregman for a good laugh.

Mostly a's: Nifty Fifties:
You love Rock 'n Roll and drive ins. You long for the good ole days where black and white movies and teen idols like Ricky Valens reigned.

Mostly b's: Swinging Sixties:
If you had your way, you'd be in a van on the way to Woodstock now. You're carefree and want to enjoy your youth while it lasts. You're also a rebel at heart and totally love protesting for your favorite cause, whether it be peace, equality, or better food in the cafeteria. You'd be the most comfortable in the sixties because you have a hippie's heart.

Mostly c's: Groovy Seventies:
Fun is your top priority. Disco balls and bright colors drive you wild. You think that the seventies were the time to be alive.

Mostly d's: Happening Eighties:
The decade of white rappers and teased hair is what really floats your boat. You completely understand the profound meaning in the words "Wax on, wax off".

Mostly e's: Totally Nineties:
You're completely a product of your environment. You love living in the world today. Sure, it has its problems, but you have to take the good with the bad, right? You're enjoying the world of entertainment, the fashion, and any other pop culture craze. You feel right at home in today's society and can't imagine life getting better than this.

*The NBA champions, Philadelphia 76ers, beat the L.A. Lakers 4-0.
*The Washington Redskins beat the Miami Dolphins 27-17 in the 1983 Superbowl.
*John McEnroe and Martina Navaratilova were named Wimbledon champions.
Technology:
*The beloved Apple was released by Macintosh.
*The number of Internet hosts broke 500; the civilian Internet was distinguished as well.
*The first PC clone (being able to use the same software as an IBM) was introduced by Compaq Computer Corp.
World News:
*April 4 the Challenger made its first flight.
*May 26, an earthquake in Northern Honshu, Japan, measuring 7.7 left 81 dead.
*September 1, a South Korean, passenger-carrying Boeing 747 was shot down when encroaching on Soviet air space, killing 269 people.
Entertainment:
*Making well over 160 million dollars, Return of the Jedi led as the top grossing film of the year, even beating Terms of Endearment, Wargames, and Superman III combined.
*The top three television programs of 1983, in order are Dallas, Dynasty, The A-Team.
* The Police's "Every Breath You Take" topped the music billboards.

What's Better: Freshman

"Sophomore year is better in general. We're more used to the school routine and the work load is less."

-Aaron Cohn

"Freshman year is better because you are new at school and you get to start over with a clean slate. No one knows who you are yet or what you were like last year. You now have a chance to be whoever you want to be."

-Lauren Cutlip

"I think that sophomore year is better than freshman year. Freshmen have to adjust and make new friends and undergo a lot of peer pressure from the upper classmen. Sophomores are already well adapted to the school and have made plenty of friends. Sophomore year is also easier."

-Brian Chung

"Sophomore year is better than freshman year because we've already been able to adjust to our high school surroundings. We're almost halfway through high school and we're beginning to experience what it is like to be an adult."

-Brandon Mita

"So far... I liked my freshman year more because I met so many new people. Now it's the same old people, same old school; it's still fun though."

-Irene Pisareva

"Sophomore year is a lot more fun. We have more respect walking through the halls. Now that we are older as sophomores, we have cars and more freedom."

-Adam Parsill

"Sophomore year because you don't have to adjust as much and you already know a lot of people."

or Sophomore Year?

"Sophomore year is better because we have more seniority over things now and because we're not scared or timid anymore; we know what's going on."

-Jenna Kaferly

"Freshman year was the best for me because I personally didn't have many worries. All I had to do is my homework and I was ready for next year."

-Mustafa Ali

"Definitely freshman year. I remember taking advantage of being a freshie because I would always walk in late to class saying, 'I was lost.' It almost always worked. Homework was really easy and never more than an hour."

-Joanna Cornici

"Sophomore year is better because you don't have to take People and Their Cultures, and you're taller."

-Jessie Moskowitz

"Sophomore year is better. You have found your clique, which is those you enjoy being around with. You are not worried about fitting in. Freshmen are still searching for their friends. You feel more like a part of the school, like it is yours. Even though the classes are harder, you are more comfortable with the high school teaching style."

-Peter Nelson

"Freshman year. I had the easiest time during freshman year. All of my classes were easy and I got great grades. Sophomore year is not bad, but I have to work my butt off this year."

-Boyoung Kim

"They are both the same. It does not matter because we are not graduating."

These are just a few of the many students here at West that dress up for Halloween. Sophomore Erica Sher chose to be a princess, while Emily Norris and Claire Nowak-Boyd chose to be Southern belles.

You Wouldn't Believe What Happened To Me...

"I was so embarrassed! It was like a "trauma-rama" moment. I can't believe I was so stupid. I made a fool out of myself and I could feel the whole cafeteria staring at me. My ears turned bright red and my cheeks grew pink. I could feel a drop of sweat from embarrassment roll down the side of my face. So let me tell you what happened...oh no, I have to go. Tell you later. Bye!"

-Agnes Cha

"I got a concussion playing basketball!"

-Ashley Oshita

"I met a girl
This girl
The girl
I spoke to her
For the first time
Bright eyes, florid cheeks
Bright smile, saccharine voice
We see

For the first time"

-Michael Hui

"The first day of freshman year, I lost my assignment notebook, left my biology book in the café, and walked into a senior calculus class. It was one of the worst days in my life."

-Nadia Shamim

"I had just gotten my permit. I was making a right and went to turn on my directional signal, but put on my brights and wipers on by accident. The good news is I made the turn and pulled to side of the road safely."

Sophomores tell all...

"I was practicing soccer at a camp in Indiana. Our trainer was showing us a move by a wooded area. He wasn't very good and he kicked the ball into the woods. Then he was chased by a deer. In fact, we all were."

-Brandon Mita

"I was late for my bio class which was on the second floor and the bell had rung. I ran as fast as I could, only to enter a classroom which was on the third floor. I had to be escorted to my real class on the second floor. This was freshman year."

-Mustafa Ali

"In health class, a girl had a pencil case which looked like a shoe. One day she was up at the teacher's desk, doing a presentation for the teacher. While she was up there, this guy took the pencil case, took all the pens out, and then shoved his foot inside and zipped it up. Then he started walking around the room, while we were all cracking up. Before she was done, he took off the pencil case, put her pens back in, and left it on her desk. When she came back to her desk, she had no idea what happened, and no one ever told her. It was hilarious."

-Jessie Moskowitz

"I was walking down the halls my freshman year, and I got these cool shoes that I always wanted, but I was always worried about falling down the stairs. And then it happened. I went down the stairs and fell flat on my face.

If students miss a test or quiz, they usually make them up in one of the resource centers. Pauline Miliotis takes a quiz she missed in the Foreign Language Resource Center.

Far Right: Western civilization is a subject that many sophomores take. Julia Krzysik delivers a presentation to her class on World War I, using a poster as a visual aid. Right: Students beware! If you are caught leaving your garbage in the cafeteria, you will have to clean up after others . Dean Larry Erickson watches Patrick Donoghue sweep up the cafeteria.

You Know You Are a Nineties Child If...

•The first and last boy band that you actually idolized was New Kids On The Block.
•You thought it was so cool to own a pair of leggings with stirrups.
•You own at least one Cabbage Patch Kid doll.
•You have something pierced.
•You actually thought that the amount of luck you had was based on the number of trolls you owned.
•Pee-Wee's Playhouse was the coolest thing on television until Full House first aired.
•You know about the whole Monica Lewinsky and President Clinton issue.
•You were around when bell-bottoms and platform shoes made a huge comeback.
•Every now and then you feel an urge to eat a fruit roll-up.
•Your older brother walked around parachute pants singing MC Hammer, because he wanted to be exactly like him.
•You have an urge to splurge at Abercrombie and Fitch.
•You thought being on Double Dare would be the coolest thing in the world.
•You sat with you classmates anxiously waiting to hear if O.J. Simpson was guilty or innocent.
•You know all the words to the Animaniacs and the Tiny Toon Adventures theme songs.
•You still think you can save the Earth with Captain Planet.
•You remember going to see your first Disney movie, The Little Mermaid or Beauty and at the the Beast, at the movie theater.

What Stinks About Freshman Year:

1) You can't drive yet (forced to ask or even beg for rides), or suffer the long bus route
2) Having the imprint of Lincoln on your forehead
3) Always being asked that dreaded question "Are you a freshman?"
4) Getting lost in what seems to be a huge school (compared to your junior high)
5) Deciding whether or not it's a "cool" idea to go to the Frosh-Soph Mixer
6) Dealing with overly cocky seniors (not that there are any...)
7) Finding the right lunch table your first day (determining your 'clique')
8) Not being able to go off campus for another year
9) Blowing it off, thinking you can make it up sophomore year (you can't!)
10) Used to being at the top (now you're at the bottom of the totem pole)
11) The chant "GO HOME FRESHMEN!"

What Rules About Freshman Year:

1) Playing dumb (getting away with anything and everything because you're a freshman)
2) All the potential dates! Before you were limited to just your junior high, and now...
3) That's about it... there are no more good things, just bear with it.

Famous Freshman

I bet you've seen or heard of this freshman on T.V. His name is Sam Rosen. He's come a long way from when he first started doing commercials at age five. How does someone get started in show business? "My father is in advertising, he got me auditions," said Rosen. His very first job was a commercial for Annie's Franks & Fries. He's also done WLUP Loop FM, Child Abuse Prevention Fund, and Payless Shoes. "In that one I was dancing on a school bus." He's also done voice-overs for McDonalds. The commercial you most likely have seen him in is Old Country Buffet. "Funny thing was I wasn't even in the top picks to be in those commercials. There were three people before me. This is basically because my Dad is in advertising and they didn't think it would look great if I got it, thinking it wouldn't be fair. We all made a try-out commercial, and when the head of Old Country Buffet walked in to watch them, he immediately saw mine, and said 'He's the one,' and walked out." How ambitious is he? "Well, to be honest with you, I have had many opportunities. I could have been in 'Freaks and Geeks' if I had the script memorized. I know this sounds weird, but I don't want to be famous. Your life changes. A little attention is ok, but I wouldn't want to be recognized everywhere. I'm just doing this for fun. Oh yeah, and the money isn't bad either."

District Office

Alex Harris and Anna Slonim

Who are the people responsible for hiring that new gym teacher that everybody loves? Or how about that math class everyone has to take but dreads; ever wonder who came up with that idea? They play a very crucial role in the students' lives. Creating classes, hiring new teachers, and managing the schools budget; these are very important individuals. That's right, they are the District Office and the Board of Education.

The District Office examines all paperwork before sending it to the Board of Education for approval. There are three branches of the District Office. The Information Services Department, the Business Department, and the Public Relations Department, each has its own specific jobs.

The Board of Education has a slightly different job. They hold regular meetings, where certain proposals are approved to benefit the school. Every time a department asks for extra funding or a trip, the case has to be approved by the Board of Education before any requests can be granted.

Remember having a great time on that field trip everyone is still talking about? What about that new teacher that really inspired you to learn this year? That and more can be credited to the decisions made by the District Office and the Board of Education. Without these people, the school would not be able to run smoothly.
-Anna Slonim

Middle: The respectability of the School Board is evident from the seriousness of their poses. Below: Do you know this man? It's no other than Dr. Griff Powell, our very own superintendent.

ART

Kelly O'Reilly

There is only one place in this school where you can see a student slave over a pottery wheel with wet clay dripping down her hands, or sitting at a desk trying not to breathe, to avoid a rainstorm of miniature paper clippings. It's art class. This 4-mod class is a great place for all of the creative ideas that sit in one's head to emerge into reality.

Author John Campbell once said, "You can't have creativity unless you leave behind the bounded, the fixed, and all the rules." In the art department, students seem to live by this quote. They stretch their imaginations to the limit by painting, sculpting, doing mosaics, and anything else imaginable. You can continue to build your portfilio.

When people think of the art department, many things come to mind, but one common thing is Judie Miller, whose dedication goes up and beyond the call of duty. Every day, she travels an astonishing three hours to get from her house to Niles West. This willingness to remain a teacher at West explains why students here respect Ms. Miller as a part of our learning community so much. However, Ms. Miller isn't the only teacher that holds a postion in art. Gary Davis is also a much-respected member in the art department. He has the same dedication is the sense that he has been at West for 34 years! So next year, when you register for art, you can be sure that you are going to be getting the best teachers possible.

The students gather around as art teacher Gary Davis gives them insight on their latest project.

Right: It's really amazing how senior Bridget O'Connor does not have a smear mark on her painting yet. Just imagine how tired your arm would be if it had to stay in that upright position for that long.

Business Education

Roshni Amin

Technology today is reaching into every corner of our lives; courses in the Business Department reflect this change. In Marketing, you are able to design your own logos and create your own products to fit your needs.

Creative advertising techniques can be learned in Advertising classes at Niles West. For example, the well known phrase "Got Milk?" came from advertising through posters and campaigns on commercials.

Take the role of an entrepreneur and begin by taking a Business Education class. You'll be taught the skills of opening up your own business and the risks involved therein.

Peek into Business Law and you might see a trial in progress. Like a traditional trial you'll find the prosecution, the defense, the jury and the judge.

Niles West offers these classes for students who want to pursue business careers. These classes along with others help students to choose their careers in life, whether it be in Marketing, Advertising or Business Management.

Cafeteria & Custodians

Have you seen the cafeteria in the morning before school? Well if you have, then you would know that it's spotless. Everything is clean and organized. By mods 23-25, however, the cafeteria looks like a hurricane has been through it. All you see is the cafeteria staff cleaning up after the mess that we made, because we can not do the simple job of throwing away our garbage.There are food wrappers all over the tables and floors, trays are on the table, and empty cans are everywhere. Thank heaven for the cafeteria workers, those wonderful people who are willing to face the same mess, every single day.

Custodians are an important part of our school. They shovel the snow outside, they fix the heating when it's broken, they fix things in and around the classroom and they deliver packages when needed.So the next time you see a custodian walking down the hall, how about saying "Thanks!"

English Department

Michelle Stimac

The coolest group of teachers come from Room 108, the English Office. They put up with more than any other department. Year after year, they go over grammar, punctuation, and the correct way to type a paper. The most annoying question asked: "What's a thesis again?" English class is a class where you know you'll get to express your opinions and get involved in deep, philosophical class debates. These classes make you think, and are not the ordinary memorization classes that are required. Not only do these teachers teach some of the most interesting classes at Niles West, they are also quite clever. Two years ago they started what has now become a tradition. One teacher wore a certain scarf on picture day, and everyone told her that she looked really sharp. Another teacher who did not feel dressed up enough asked to borrow the scarf. Pretty soon, every single female teacher in the department ended up wearing that same scarf for her picture. Last year, all the teachers wore white turtlenecks with black jumpers. This year, they are wearing David Klingenberger's black rimmed glasses (except for David Klingenberger.) Who knows what's in store for next year? "Maybe we'll all just take our pictures naked," jokes Sharon Swanson.

-Michelle Stimac

Foreign Language

Alissa Catiis

What's the best thing about teaching the language you teach?

•"It's interesting and is spoken in so many places, even in the U.S."-Steven Beaver, Spanish and German

•"I love the way it sounds. I love to talk about its rich culture and history."-Linda Capuzelo, Spanish

•"I love my students. They inspire and irritate and challenge me every day. But, they are our future-if we cheat them we cheat ourselves and lose our most precious resource."-Marla Cowan, French

•"I enjoy the communicative nature of a foreign language class. I am able to learn about students' interests and talents. It lends me the opportunity to get to know them well." -Andrew Johnson, Spanish

•"You get to teach different things (geography, culture, grammar, numbers...). It feels like you can be more imaginative because there is a spectrum of material."-Luisa Karimighovanloo, Spanish

•"To see my students' reactions when they are really learning and using Spanish. I enjoy giving my students more access to information than they had before."- David Malatesta, Spanish

•"Interacting with my students."-Josef Neumayer, German

-Alissa Catiis

Puedes escribir en Espanol? (Can you write in Spanish?) Written exercises also facilitate the acquisition of a new language. Spanish teacher, David Malatesta, watches over his student, sophomore Jessica Sotelo, to make sure that she is doing the exercise correctly.

Information Services

Hillary Gack and Irfan Shariff

Most likely, the masses have never heard of the term Information Services. The Instructional Resource Center and Audio-Visual Equipment Room, along with the Technology Department (the department with jurisdiction over the famed Computer Lab) comprise much of the second-floor hallway. Although the two have separate offices, they serve the purpose of delivering extra educational services (informational services), to faculty and the students. Throughout the decades at Niles West, the area comprising these stations have undergone tremendous changes. In the early sixties to mid-eighties, there was not much access to purchasing technological equipment, even for educational institutions, and such equipment belonging to the school took up plenty of space. The old AVE (Audio-Visual Equipment) occupied a couple of the present classrooms several years ago. Recently, the departments have added staff members, rooms, and many other resources. Even though many students are reluctant to admit it, the Information Services rooms are the most visited, next to the cafeteria. Currently, as we are in the Information Age, there is no doubt that there will be many continuing improvements to these areas.

Below: A once gated community protecting monstrous, gargantuan study carrels with a vintage, teal movie turnstile; heavy, opaque drapery concealing the beaming sunshine, and tawdry, sixties upholstery and carpeting; the IRC, previously called the library, often scared students away from even entering.

Above: Not every day does one see the bounties that lay within Niles West's "holy-of-holies," the backroom of the AVE. Without the movie projector, editing equipment, and even the primitive record player, who knows at what stage of instructional development students would be?

Deans and Main Office

Lauren Tortorice

The title "dean" is not one worn without pride. Power to give out cut-slips, detentions, and BAC--the sweet, sweet ambrosia tasting slips that flavor our lives. They say a diamond is forever, but sitting through four hours on a Saturday can introduce you to a whole new world of multifaceted pleasure. Blanketing the school in the light that is high school justice, the deans bring swift punishment to the guilty and provide safety to those unable to provide it themselves. Like steadfast beacons of hope on a rocky shore they stand. Besides the deans, the other tandum to the school is the main office. Announcements, teachers mailboxes, phone calls, parking permits, and booking keeping are all responsibilites of the main office workers. But that's not all! You can go there to have a one on one conversation with Mr. Brodsky to discuss an idea that is floating around in your head. With all those things going on, it's no wonder the main office is the main office in the hub of the school.

What are some bizarre events that took place in your classroom?

"So I'm in the middle of my lecture and this big bird flies into the classroom from the window and started dive-bombing my kids. The bird was scared and started flying around. All my kids assumed tornado position for ten minutes until the bird finally found its way out."
-Lynne Rauser

"A mouse ran around the room during a class and as a result, students screamed and jumped on top of their desks."
-David Fickett

"One day during class, one of my math students was sitting in his desk, with his palms faced up but his fingers were folded backwards underneath his hands. He showed me how he could dislocate all of his fingers and when he shook his hand, they flipped around like sausages."

-Tim Miller

"I just began student teaching ten days before this occurred. I came to class about ten seconds after the bell rang, and a freshman student of mine was standing on the third floor window ledge outside the building. He had climbed out of the window, but he wasn't planning to jump; apparently it was some kind of joke. I asked him to please come back into the classroom. Then I sent him to the dean."

MUSIC

Kelly O'Reilly

You're walking down the West hallway, and the floor slants down. You've never been to this side of the school before. You take a breath, push open the doors and find...beautiful music!?! In this far corner of the school lies the music wing. Classes such as orchestra, choir, band, and guitar meet in these rooms, as students work towards their common goal of performance.

Throughout the year band, choir, and orchestra put on a variety of concerts. The Winter Concert, Showcase of Bands, and Pasta and Pops are just a few. However, besides the concerts that take place in school, the different groups get to travel around the country. San Franciso, Florida, and New Orleanes have been previous destinations of the music department.

Along with the basic classes, there are also special groups that you can join. Expressions, Marching Band, Pop and Rock, and Jazz Band are just a few.

One of the best and most unique things about being a part of the music department is at the end of the year, you get a special "souvenir." The different groups put out a CD that is a compilation of different songs performed throughout the year.

Senior Bobby Thomas must have missed a note during this performance. Just look at the guilty look on his face!

Physical Education

Alex Harris

Have you seen many new faces around the gym lately? Since the retirement of four physical education teachers, six more have been added to fill the void.

These teachers plan to add unique and interesting activities to the gym program. Heidi Baran would like to add programs such as self defense, kayaking, rapelling, snowboarding and scuba diving.

" I taught at Downers Grove South for three years, and the students here are much more respectful and outgoing than my former school. Niles West has a more upbeat environment. I love teaching at Niles West," exclaimed Baran.

Advanced dance teacher Mindy Slutzky said, "Since I went to school here, I feel more at home. Teaching is in my blood from my parents (former gym teachers John and Jean Armour)."

" I never could see myself at a desk job. I love exercise and to be active. I love the outdoors. Physical education lets me do all of the things I enjoy most in life and teach these activities to high schoolers. It is so important for teens to exercise. That is why I try to incorporate various ideas/games that they will enjoy so that they like to exercise," stated Baran.

Whatever ideas the new staff brings to the table, they could be the spark that sets off a whole new program that gets Niles West students finding enjoyment in exercising.

Practical Science

Lauren Tortorice

The Practical Science classes at Niles West are very beneficial to the students who take them. Child Developement, taught by Mrs. Lisa Dunham and Mrs. Nancy Erickson, is a great class. Students take it because they want to learn how to take care of children so that they will one day be supportive parents. Driver's Education at Niles West is great because students learn to become responsible drivers. They find out that with the privilege of driving also comes independence. Then there's Industrial Arts which helps because students learn how to make their own furniture. Then for the more fashionable students, there is fashion workshop. Students learn how to design and make their own clothes.
Lastly, students have the option of picking one of the many foods classes that are offered. The introductary level is chef's course where students learn how to prepare basic dishes used in every day cooking. Then after you have completed this course you have the option to continue in foods classes to go into culinary arts as a profession.

Right: In typing class, we use computers, but back in the old days, typewriters were what students used to type their papers. Typewriters were very popular during the 60's.

Science

Hillary Gack

Imagine coming into a classroom that smells like a combination of Lysol and a sewer and finding a dead, white rat sprawled all over your desk; or imagine seeing your teacher shoot a potato out of a pole. What class is this? Well, it's science, of course. This year, twenty- four teachers are divided up teaching Integrated Lab Science (ILS), Biology, Chemistry, and Physics. Science is one of the only departments in which students do a lot of hands-on activities and work together as a class. There are many different skills that are acquired and developed when taking science. Many of the science teachers would like to have courses added to the program, such as Environmental Science, Ecology, a

Field Biology course, Astronomy, Geology, Meteorology, or a class on the history of science.

"I love learning about and attempting to understand life and living organisms," said Ruth Gleicher.

Sarell Hesser said, "It's fun, exciting and mentally stimulating."

Steve Foerch said, "I love the challenge of asking why. Almost to the point that it is annoying!"

Many of the science teachers were asked what is the best part about teaching science. The responses to this question were all unique. Wayne Rogoski said, "There's lots of neat stuff to play with."

Margaret Donnelly said," There's lots of hands-on activities and labs for students."

Joseph Neumayer said, "Being able to work with my students and to help them apply biology to real life situations."

There are many interesting concepts and abilities that you can learn and apply by taking science classes. Each science teacher is always willing to help make the class interesting for everyone.

Social Studies

Kelly O'Reilly, Chris Naka, and Huma Farook

Social Studies covers a wide variety of classes here at Niles West. Besides the typical history classes like US History, P&C (People and their Cultures), and Western Civilization, Social Studies also extends into the realm of psychology, sociology, and global problems.

Contrary to the belief that Social Studies is a boring class, the teachers at this school put a stop to that rumor quickly. They make it interesting by providing their students with a variety of learning styles and opportunities. Even though there is a lot of note taking involved in these classes, they aren't at all boring. The teachers are very knowledgeable about their subjects, and will often integrate fun facts into their lesson plans. Come on, how many of you knew that General Stonewall Jackson rode into battle with his right arm above his head because it balanced the blood in his body? Ironically, he died from complications from a gunshot wound in his right arm. Facts like this keep the students interested. It isn't all notes in these classes though. Guest speakers and field trips are also a part of this curriculum. If you take the class Sociology, you get to go to boot camp. If you take Economics, you go to the Board of Trade. It is important to learn about the past to avoid making the same mistakes in the future, even if it requires a 700 page text book.

These teachers in this department are amazing. Chris Schwarz can juggle an orange, a golf ball, and a baseball, along with grading, and coaching a sports team too. WOW!

Special Education

Top Five Reasons To Be A Special Ed Teacher

1. Provides teachers the opportunity to work one-on-one with students.

2. There is more flexibility in the schedule.

3. There are more opportunities to develop special units/projects/ activities.

4. Provides teachers the opportunity to teach a variety of academics.

5. Provides teachers the opportunity to get to know their students

A word of advice

Jill Sabaduquia

Our school would not be the same if it were not for our underground support system, the Student Services department, and the devoted counselors. They are here to help the students through the tough situations teenagers face each day. They deal with topics such as suicide, alcohol, drug abuse, anger management, and sexual orientation.

This year, a wide variety of programs are offered to the student body. According to the Director of Student Services, Mark O'Brien, there is an increase in programs that are in place to keep students on target in their efforts to get an education and get their diploma.

- R.A.V.E. (Recovering Adolescents' Vision of Excellence) is a group that supports students that are recovering from drug and/or alcohol abuse or want help for their addictions.

- Family Issues is oriented towards the students who have family members that are using and want help dealing with the stress caused by it.
- The Self-Acceptance Group helps students assess their appearance, personality, and accept who they are.
- Anger Management is a great way to learn to control outbursts and direct your anger in a more positive way.
- The Mourning After is a group dedicated to help students recover from the loss of loved ones.
- GLBTQ (Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, Trans-gender and Questioning) is a group mainly for students who are experiencing mixed feelings about their sexuality and/or want to talk to others about it.
- The Social Skills Group is for the student who wants help interacting in group situations. These are among the many programs offered to students in need of support.
- The Writing Expression Group, the Test Anxiety, the Young Women's Group and the Transfer Group are also available to students.

A Memorable Experience By: Coach Richards

Was against Evanston, one of the best teams in the North Suburban League. Although we were being beaten in the pool, we were clearly making up for it with our cheering. When a swimmer would finish her race, the girls would hug and congratulate her. The Evanston girls seemed completely uninterested in cheering their fellow teammates, doing their homework or holding private conversations. In the longest event of the meet, the 500-yard freestyle, an Evanston swimmer was clearly going to finish behind and struggling to finish the race. While her own teammates ignored her, the NW girls began to realize what valiant effort she was making. As she struggled to finish, our girls were screaming and cheering [for her]. I will never forget the look of confusion and elation on her face as she was greeted with an eruption of cheers and surrounded by her opponents congratulating her. The Niles West Girls Swim Team exemplifies the true spirit of competition.

A little piece of history... The record in 1994 was 4-6 as opposed to today's record standing at 0 Wins.

"The most memorable thing was the Maine South meet. Our energy was static and when we went out there we tried our best and killed them." -Senior Richard Trinh

"Our most memorable event was when we beat Maine South. Louis Torres came back and we kicked Maine South's butt." -Junior John Schutt

"The most memorable moment was when JV beat GBS 78-77. The team effort was awesome and everyone gave it all they had." -Sophomore William Kleyman

"The most fun times were we working together, swimming together, getting in trouble together, and of course, our Pasta Party."-Freshman George Hamada

"Watching 41 boys turn into men in three months is definitely a memorable thing." -Coach Mitch Stern

Right: Dustin Schneider takes it easy on the court. He can play well and still have fun. Tennis is a tough sport, but if you can find a way to balance hard work and fun, then you have mastered its basic principles. Center: Edward Cha reaches for success. He uses agility and grace in his movement for the ball. This is a good trait of a tennis player.

Isaac Kagan goes for the gold. Not only does he show dedication in his technique, but he also has a positive outlook. He wants to defeat, not be defeated.

One day in class, I approached Gianluca, who was busily writing something. Standing over him, noticing he was not exactly taking notes, I asked, "Do you have some art work you would like to share with the class? Something about what we're doing?" Laughter erupted and spread across the classroom. I looked down and saw my own head, nearly filling the entire sheet of paper, atop tiny little legs and nearly inhuman arms. My hair was erratic, frantic, and wispy, my look typically dry and sardonic, my glasses enormous. Gianluca had captured me perfectly. "Oh, how nice. Clearly, your talent and interest in art exceeds that in literature, Mr. Manno."

After class, he approached me before I had even said anything. "I'm sorry," he said. "That's okay," I said. I'm not going to give you a detention, Gianluca. I think the picture is quite good." And it was. And he was. He was talented, charming, warm, funny—and we will miss him very much—and by the way, I still have his drawing on my bulletin board in my office at home.

Kaine Osburn

Gianluca Manno

Hold onto your memories,
to all of your cherished moments of the past,
to the blessings and the laughter,
the joys and the celebrations,
the sorrow and the tears.
They all add up to a treasure of fond yesterdays
that you shared and spent together, and they keep the one you loved close to you in spirit and thought.
The special moments and memories in your life will never change.
They will always be in your heart,
today and forevermore.

Do not stand at my grave and weep,
I am not there, I do not sleep.
I am a thousand winds that blow,
I am the diamond glint of snow.
I am the sunlight on the ripened grain.
I am the gentle autumn rain.
When you awake in the morning hush,
I am the swift uplifting rush.
Of quiet birds of circled flight,
I am soft stars that shine at night.
Do not stand at my grave and cry;
I am not there, my soul did not die.

Bianca Tarau never laughed aloud at the jokes or antics of her classmates. But she would often turn her head to the side and try to hide a big knowing grin. She knew the princes from the clowns. And I think she knew she was a princess herself, but not in any conceited or self centered way. She had a quiet dignity I have found in few students. She cultivated it, especially when she struggled in class. Her dignity carried her over the rough spots, almost like a friend would carry a friend. Her attentiveness and maturity made it possible for her to see a better day, a day to smile, quietly to herself, at the silliness all around her.

Coming To A Close

Time quickly passes us by while we reminisce about the past.
Every memory makes an impact on the rest of our lives.
We begin to notice the deeper meanings behind our purpose.
Trying to cherish the past experiences and comparing them to our present.
Even though changes occur, memories remain in our hearts.
Every day is a new challenge to overcome on our path.
Remembering the past but not being able to go back.
Awaiting new memories to be made.

Colophon

Spectrum, volume 39, was produced by the yearbook class at Niles West High School in Skokie, IL and printed by Herff Jones Yearbooks in Marceline, MO. The account was serviced by Herff Jones yearbook representative Maureen Olofsson and customer service adviser Robert Allen. Editors Huma Farook, Alissa Catiis, and Anna Slonim developed the theme "What a Long Strange Trip It's Been." The cover was designed by Chris Naka and incorporated a four- color design which was lithographed. The endsheets are printed on white Vibra color paper, using black ink. The book's 276 pages are printed on 100 pound Premier Gloss. The 2000 volume includes 64 pages in full color. All body copy was set in 12-point Tahoma, and captions were 11-point Techno. Headline fonts included Penyae Bold. All type was set by the plant.The signing pages were borrowed from a Grateful Dead t-shirt design. The staff submitted the type to the plant on disk using Herff Jones' Pagemaster and Imagemaster programs. The Spectrum was produced using Pagemaker 6.5 and Photoshop 4.0, on Macintosh computers and printers. Photo processing and printing was done by Root Photographers and Wolf Camera. Root Studios provided the portraits. The 1600 copies of the book were sold to 1535 students at $33.00. Spectrum is a member of the NSPA, NISPA, EISPA.
